THE HEARST CLUB

It Has Absorbed the Democratic Factions of the Country.

The William Randolph Hearst Club of Maricopa county was organized yesterday at O'Neill hall. It was accomplished in standing and silence except for a speech by Eugene Brady O'Neill because he owned the hall and had a right to talk if he felt like it. He always feels like it. It is not often the democrats of this county do anything without a great deal of oratory but this was an occasion too sacred for talking.

The meeting was in response to a call issued by W. B. Cleary and Thomas E. Parish constituting the "committee on organization." It has never yet been discovered who took the initiative in the formation of this committee but after all, that is a matter only of curious scientific interest. The solution of it would be of no material benefit to mankind. The committee was defeated if not de jure, the call was answered and the club has been organized.

There is wide difference in the estimates as to the number of democrats who congregated at the hall yesterday. One enthusiast thought there were between 300 and 400. Another put the number at 120 and the Phoenix member of the Hearst syndicate said that 800 stepped up and signed the roll.

J. D. Loper was the temporary chairman of the meeting and A. D. Leyhe, the temporary secretary. The meeting proceeded to business at once. A committee on by-laws, consisting of W. T. Smith, T. E. Parish, F. C. Norris, Carl Hayden and Eugene Brady O'Neill was appointed. The following gentlemen were made members of the committee on organization: J. H. Langston, C. E. Wood, Captain J. G. Evans, John Norton and W. H. Wallace. It was not explained whether this committee was for the purpose of the organization of the meeting or whether it was designed to assist those hardy pioneers, Messrs. Cleary and Parish. The committee having been appointed there was a recess. It was immediately after the reconvening of the meeting that Mr. O'Neill arose and asserted his proprietorship of the hall by addressing the assembled throng. He was followed by Chairman Webb of the territorial central committee, a recent convert to the Hearst movement.

Then followed the reports of the committees. The report of the resolutions committee was submitted by Captain J. G. Evans. He was chairman of the committee. This honor had been bestowed upon him in order to influence the silver republican vote of the territory which it is said Captain Evans carries in his vest pocket and can deliver it bodily. He is therefore a gentleman much sought after by the resolutions committee exclusively with the statehood question and the attitude of Mr. Hearst on that question. They set forth that Arizona owed much to Mr. Hearst for his declaration of friendly intentions. The republican senate of the United States contented making a joint state out of New Mexico and Arizona. It was resolved that an appeal should be made to Mr. Hearst to at once go across from the house of representatives to the other end of the capitol and put a stop to the nefarious operation to nip it in the bud.

Everything that had been proposed having been adopted unanimously the organization was completed by the election of W. B. Cleary president and J. D. Loper first vice president and C. E. Wood secretary of the club. It was also decided that there should be a vice president in every voting precinct of the county. When the club adjourned it adjourned to meet again, if not in this world, on some brighter and happier shore.

It should be added that the opposition to the Hearst movement which threatened at its inception some weeks ago has been absorbed. There is not much enthusiasm on the south side but there is no open and active antagonism.
